

Interior Consultant

Full Time opportunity

- Unique opportunity to combine your love of interiors with your passion for top notch customer service
- On the job training and development – we're looking for potential, not perfection.
- No weekends, Monday – Friday, 9 to 5.
- Opportunity to get out and about, we know where all the best pies in the region are!
- Generous product discount

The opportunity

Our client is a well-respected, local indoor and outdoor window covering business, servicing Ararat and surrounds.

From initial consultation with their customers through to measuring, quoting and installation a commitment to personalized service underpins every interaction.

They are currently looking for a brand-new Interior Consultant to join their team, this varied and interesting role offers the right candidate the opportunity to learn the business from top to bottom.

A typical day may see you opening the showroom, providing colour and product advice to customers, quoting, attending on-site measures and installations before heading back to the store to close. Every day is different, and no two jobs are the same.

Experience in installing curtains, blinds, shutters, and awnings is advantageous but not essential as for the right applicant, as we will provide on-the-job training.
